Expected Family Contribution: 0 C

Based on the information we have on record for you, your Expected Family Contribution (EFC) is 0. You may be eligible to receive a Federal Pell Grant and other federal student aid. Your school will use your EFC to determine your financial aid eligibility for federal grants, loans, and work-study funds, and possible funding from your state and school.

There is a limit to the total amount of Federal Pell Grants that a student may receive, which is the equivalent of six school years. Based on information reported to the National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS®) database by the schools you have attended, you have received a total amount of Federal Pell Grants that is close to the cumulative total you can receive. Therefore, your eligibility for additional Federal Pell Grants may be limited.

Based on your EFC of 0, you may be eligible to receive a Federal Pell Grant of up to $6,495 for the 2022–23 school year provided you have not met or exceeded the lifetime limit established for the Federal Pell Grant program.

- If you have questions about your financial aid package, contact your school(s)

Eligibility Information

Estimated Expected Family Contribution (EFC)= 019081

The EFC is a measure of how much you can contribute to the cost of your education. Schools use your EFC to determine your federal student aid eligibility.

The EFC is not how much aid you will receive or how much you have to pay for college.

Based on the eligibility criteria you may be eligible for the following:

Direct Stafford Loan Estimate - $5,500

You may also be eligible to receive other federal, state, or institutional grants, scholarships, and/or work-study.

In addition, you should learn about federal tax benefits for education <https://studentaid.gov/resources/tax-benefits>, including the American Opportunity Tax Credit (AOTC).

You're One Step Closer to College or Career School

Congratulations [REDACTED]! Your 2022–23 Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA®) form submission is complete.

Confirmation Number: [REDACTED] 01/07/2022 02:11:08

Data Release Number: 3917

Eligibility Information

The estimated Expected Family Contribution is an index number used by financial aid offices to calculate your financial need. The estimate comes from information you reported on your FAFSA form. Keep in mind that it is not the amount of money you will have to pay for college.

Based on your EFC of 000000, we estimate that you may qualify for the following federal student aid.

William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan (Direct Loan) Program - $20,500.00
